IGNTU - VICE CHANCELLOR'S MESSAGE

As a Vice Chancellor of the university, I deem it my privilege and honour to head the institution of higher learning that has come into existence for the noble reasons. The mandate of the University is to serve the tribal communities which have been sidelined and marginalized for centuries and consequently they have remained underdeveloped and undernourished. Tribal arts, literature, medicine, their form of worship have received very less attention from the connoisseurs of art and literature and social scientists and anthropologists also have not paid the amount of attention that they should have paid. But the University during the last few years has taken the initiatives that have taken the University to greater heights.

I am looking forward to the mutual benefits after signing the Memorandum of Understanding with Indian Institute of Tourism and Travel Management (IITTM). Both the centers of learning will contribute towards the betterment of the society.

Prof. T V Kattimani

IITTM – DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

The nation is undergoing a glorious period in the history of our business. As the economy develops and the per capita income increases, the relative share of employment among different sector moves in favor of services. But, the growth of the services industry would largely depend on the quality of human resources. It requires tremendous expertise and dynamism to succeed in this competitive environment. It is also important to develop the ability to continuously acquire new knowledge and adapt to emerging business realities.

After signing the MoU with IGNTU, both of the centers of higher learning will provide greater benefits to their learners and flourish their career paths.

On behalf of the Institute, I reaffirm our commitment to create world-class manpower for which I look forward to the co-operation of one and all.

Prof. (Dr.) Sandeep Kulshreshtha

ABOUT IGNTU

The Indira Gandhi National Tribal University, Amarkantak has been established by an Act of the Parliament of India, the Indira Gandhi National Tribal University Act, 2007. - To disseminate and advance knowledge by providing instructional and research facilities in tribal art, tradition, culture, language, medicinal systems, customs, forest based economic activities, flora, fauna and advancement in technologies relating to the natural resources of the tribal areas.
- To collaborate with national and international universities and organizations, especially for undertaking cultural studies and research on tribal communities.

- To formulate tribal centric development models, publish reports and monographs and to organize conferences and seminars on issues relating to tribes and to provide inputs to policy matters in different spheres.
- To take appropriate measures for promoting the members of tribal communities capable of managing, administering and looking after their own needs by access to higher education through a university of their own.
- To disseminate and advance knowledge by providing instructional and research facilities in such other branches of learning as it may deem fit.
- To take appropriate measures for promoting innovations in teaching learning process in interdisciplinary studies and researches and to pay special attention to the improvement of social, educational and economic conditions and welfare of the scheduled tribes within the Union of India.

In view of the aims and objectives of the university the major thrust will be on providing more opportunity for the tribes. However, the university is open to all.

The Salient features of the academic system followed by the University are:

- To provide value-based education aiming for morale and character building;
